In 2017, TEFL Org UK chose the cause as their Charity of the Year to raise their profile and much needed funds as they undertake new projects, such as their recent engagement with children in war-torn Aleppo.

The company collected over £1,500 in donations from customers purchasing their teaching English as a foreign language courses and matched each donation for the final total.

Several members of the team also raised money by completing the Loch Ness Marathon in October, which raised a further £700.

Accepting the cheque on behalf of Mary's Meals, their representative Bridget Gordon said:

"We're grateful for TEFL Org UK's generosity. With it costing just £13.90 to feed a child for the year the money raised will go a long way."

TEFL Org UK Managing Director Jennifer Mackenzie said:

"I'm delighted that we have so successfully raised money for Mary's Meals in 2017. To hear from Bridget the difference this will make to the lives of so many children and their families makes it so worthwhile.

"I'm gratified the team here at TEFL Org have been so enthusiastic in regards to our corporate responsibility as a business, and this year voted on who they wanted to support. This year we will be fundraising for ActionAid and hope our future students throughout the UK and worldwide will be equally as generous as our past students were!"
